February Greetings:

On the municipal calendar, the first few days in February means it is time for the annual SUMA conference. This year Regina hosts. So with the drive there and back, the better part of 4 days are utilized.

Attending this conference requires a certain patience, optimism and stamina. Relevant information, opportunities to connect with peers, and even the occasional surprise can occur. For example, at last year's convention, two highlights stand out.

One was the opportunity to hear keynote speaker Ryan Walter (Montreal Canadien alumni). Walter's presentation based in part on his hockey career and his subsequent Master's degree studies in leadership business, was both intelligent and inspiring. I made a point of commending him personally on what I thought was a solid and meaningful presentation!

Second, our CAO Nicole Lerat and myself had the opportunity to meet for nearly an hour with our MLA and Premier Scott Moe. Our conversation was cordial, helpful and encouraging. Hopefully this year will present a similar opportunity for us to learn about what might be developing for Rosthern and our municipal partners.

Attending the SUMA convention has a financial cost. Not to attend is probably a missed opportunity. Attending and participating is an important investment on behalf of our town. Stay tuned for reports on this year's convention. As always, I invite your questions, comments and perspectives.

Regards, Dennis Helmuth, Mayor, Town of Rosthern
